Lending & Security Placement

rmrf.com

We provide skillful advice to lenders and borrowers. This has been core to our business for over 100 years.

Strategic counsel when you need it

Lending is an industry that requires constant risk mitigation. Whether you are the lender or the borrower, you need thorough, critical and timely legal advice. The best advice is also nuanced and understands the full context of the transaction.

For over a century, Reynolds Mirth has assisted lenders and borrowers navigate their legal risks. We work to understand your business and objectives, and have the depth of experience to offer you service that is both timely and thorough.

We can help you with:

- Completion and registration of security documents
- Drafting and developing standard form precedents and customized security documents
- Negotiation and drafting of inter-lender agreements and priority agreements
- Project financing
- Reviewing, negotiating, structuring and drafting complex loan agreements and credit transactions including syndicated loans, club deals, and floor plan financing
